A commission fee of Rs 838/15/0 has to be paid to Mr.T.Srinivasa Chettv of the District Court. Under S.R.12  one-third of anv fee in excess of Rs 50/-  paid to a Government servant shall be credited to general revenues. The District Judge reports that the commission was given while he was practising as an Advocate and the bulk of the work was done before he was entertained in service and recommends that the usual deduction may be waived. ~~It is not known~~ The respective values of work turned out by the Commissioner when he was an advocate and after he joined service are not known. This may be ascertained from the Dt. Judge.

10 A note regarding the existing position is submitted as verbally directed.

11 When requisitions are received from other Courts for the examination of witnesses on commission on payment of small fees, the Court usually appoints members of the establishment to execute the Commissions, and the fees received from the concerned Court are paid to the officials. Some times Advocates are appointed; but that is only when the matter is important or the Court from which the Commission emanates is of a high grade, for example the High Courts, Chief Presidency Magistrates etc.

12 The Court of its own motion also issues Commissions in the following matters - sale of properties, examination of witnesses, making an inventory of articles outside the Court premises, examining accounts spreading over a large period in order to discover the actual amount due from one party to another, which examination would ordinarily occupy and waste a large part of the time of the Court, administering special oaths to parties in temples or mosques, translation of verhacular documents etc. If the nature of the work is arduous or responsible, the Commission is granted to the senior Clerks; and if it is unimportant and of a routine nature the Commission is granted to junior Clerks. In all these cases the Commission fees are paid by the parties to the proceedings. The emoluments of the official concerned have no bearing to the fees of the Commission granted.

13 If the Court is of the opinion that sale of properties by auctioneers would fetch higher prices, such Commissions are given to auctioneers also. But if there is no such chance and the engagement would cost much more than a Commission to an official of the Court without any corresponding advantage, it is granted to an official or to an Advocate. Junior Advocates are entrusted with such Commissions by rotation.

It is for consideration whether the drafts on the file may issue pending the examination of the general question.

This file deals with the grant of commission to subordinates in the Courts and offices of the District Judge and Munsiff-Magistrate.

(1) S.No.(17) Mr.Achayya prepared an entry showing the value of jewels. District Judge recommends that he be paid a sum of Rs 40/- as commission. Mr.Achayya's pay is about Rs 45/-p.m. and it seems undesirable that he should receive for a single job a sum equal to his month's pay. We have not been informed how long it took him to complete the entry, nor do we know whether he is competent to value jewels.

(2) S.N.(18) We may ask District Judge as proposed by office.

(3) S.No.(19) Here as in (1) above the fee of Rs 10/- for a few minutes work seems to be too high. The clerk draws pay at the rate of Rs 5/- per day (Rs 150/- p.m)

Please see paras 1, 3, 5 and 14 of file D.Dis. No.644 of 1938 We might perhaps now ask District Judge to go into the question and report.

13/11/35

Financial Adviser to His Exalted Highness the Nizam's Government

c/o Dated 14th November 1935

(19) There seems to be no financial impropriety in these payments. Remuneration for service as examiners or for clerical service in connection with examinations is recognised. As regards payments to clerks in courts, for executing commissions, the propriety of entrusting such commissions to court subordinates and remunerating them was raised by the Audit Officer in 1926 and it was considered that in the circumstances explained by the Dt. Judge in his letter dated 2-12-36 there was no objection to the practice. The fact that such payments are made to the court officials was also brought to the notice of the Government of India when a delegation of powers to the District and Sessions Judge was sought to permit the undertaking of such work- please see G. of I. F.&.P. memo No.D.1029-A/27 dated 22-4-27.

(20) I do not think that we should criticise the amount of remuneration fixed in relation to pay drawn by individuals to whom the work is entrusted. The work is entrusted to them on personal grounds of their capacity to execute the -- commissions and not in virtue of their position under Govt. and the remuneration has to be decided primarily with reference to the amount and character (including responsibility) of the work involved and details in regard to this can be called for at the time of sanction, if in any case the remuneration proposed appears prima facie to be excessive. The payments made in the last two years do not suggest that they are either very frequent or excessive.

As regards the observance of the Fundamental Rules and Supplementary Rules it is noticed that though in 1926 a delegation was made to the District Judge to sanction the undertaking of such work, it has ceased to be operative as under present S.R.11 and the delegation thereunder (item 3 of Appendix 13) the power to permit the undertaking of a work and the acceptance of a fee is vested in the same authority. Sanction of the Resident is therefore at present necessary for undertaking the work for which a fee is allowed and not merely for the payment of the fee. The attention of the District Judge may be drawn to this.

I suggest that for the following reasons the existing practice whereby the Hon'ble the Resident's sanction is obtained only to draw the commission fee in each specific case may be continued. In that case it may be left to the District Judge to sanction the undertaking of commission work by his staff as well as by the staff of the Munsifs' Courts. He will bear in mind while giving such sanction the principles mentioned in paragraph 20 ante.

(1) The main reason why the power was delegated to the District Judge in 1927 was in order to reduce correspondence. That consideration still holds good.

(2) In urgent cases it will be difficult to address the Residency and obtain sanction for the staff to undertake the work in time.

(3) It is true that under the present S.R.11 and the delegation thereunder, the power to permit the undertaking of a work and the acceptance of a fee is vested in the same authority. But the delegatic made by the Government of India in 1927 has not been specifically withdrawn; and the Accountant-General has not so far raised any objection to the existing procedure. It seems therefore reasonable to hold that the exercise by the District Judge of the power to permit the undertaking of a work would not be inconsistent with the spirit of the Rule referred to above.
